

FIRE MENACES TWO CITIES; ONE DEAD

FIREMAN KILLED IN BATTLE WITH BLAZE AT SOUTH BEND, IND.

City Paralyzed When 20
Stores Wiped Out—
Loss $3,000,000

(By United Press)
South Bend, Ind., Feb. 1.—All business in the heart of South Bend was paralyzed today when fire which caused losses estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,- 000,000 destroyed twenty stores and wiped out an entire quarter of a city block.

One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured fighting the blaze.

The fire, which originated in the Brandon Ready to Wear store, spread rapidly and in a short time the entire quarter of a block was a mass of flames.

While all South Bend fire equipment concentrated on this fire, another blaze broke out at the Standard Oil Company plant on the outskirts of the city.

The loss at this fire will be in excess of $500,000, it was said.

Fire Captain Campbell Dezeles-chaume, veteran of thirty years service and for twenty years a fire captain, was killed when he came in contact with a live wire.

Charles Rupp, another fireman, sustained serious injuries when he slipped while attempting to avoid falling masonry.

A third fireman, as yet unidentified, was injured when he was struck by falling bricks.

JEALOUSY THEORY IN DOUBLE MURDER

Detroit, Feb. 1.—On the theory that jealousy was the motive, police today held Samuel Pace, 21, for questioning in connection with the double murder of Hilma Lake, pretty 19-year-old domestic and her 30-year-old escort, Jay Daubenspeck, a private detective, whose bullet riddled bodies were found here yesterday.

The girl was alleged to have received threats of death from a former sweetheart, if found with another man. Pace denied knowledge of the crime, but admitted he knew Miss Lake. He was arrested after police found his automobile covered with mud and containing a pair of mudspattered shoes.

The bodies were found about 400 feet apart in a position indicating there had been a terrific struggle.
Daubenspeck had died from eight bullets fired from two different weapons.
Miss Lake was shot four times.

MANAGER SUGGESTS LEAGUE OF CITIES

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—City Manager
C. O. Sherrill, soon will propose a League of Ohio municipalities and will ask each city to join, it was announced today.

Formulation of the league is now banned by state laws which prohibit extending financial support to such organizations.

Sherrill, however, contemplates inaugurating the movement and will soon send out general letters sounding out sentiment as to his plan.
Sherrill said that several members of the legislature favor repeal of the prohibitive law and that he will urge Ohio cities to join in obtaining its repeal.

THREE CANDIDATES FILE DECLARATIONS

Columbus, Feb. 1.—Former state representative H. S. Atkinson, Columbus, today filed a formal declaration of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.
Atkinson is a member of the board of trustees of Ohio State University.
His candidacy was endorsed by the Democratic members of the general assembly in caucus here January 15.

Two additional candidates have entered the field for the Republican nomination for secretary of state.
They are former lieutenant governor
Clarence J. Brown, of Blanchester and J. E. Cross, Columbus, clerk of the senate.

HUMOROUS WRITER SUCCUMBS SUNDAY

Cumberland, Md., Feb. 1.—George V.
Hobart, humorist, better known for his stage success "Experience," is dead here at the age of 59. Death came Sunday after an illness of several weeks.

Hobart began his career as a telegraph operator. Coming to Cumberland from his home in Nova Scotia,
he founded the "Scimitar" and later moved to Baltimore, where the "Dinkelspiel" was launched.

The author is survived by two children.

TO START PROBE OF JURY TAMPERING

CHICAGO TERRORIZED WHEN MAN BELIEVED INSANE RUNS AMUCK

Engineer Arrested After Shooting And Wild Taxi Ride

Chicago, Feb. 1.—E. H. Sackett, 52, mining engineer and official of the Utilities Manufacturing Co., of Kansas City, Mo., was under medical observation here today, following a shooting, a wild taxicab ride and a man hunt which ended at a railroad station.
Police believe Sackett is insane.

Sackett, who had a room in a hotel here, drove to the home of his sister-in-law in Berwyn and demanded to see his wife. Mrs. Sackett, alarmed by her husband's strange actions, summoned Policeman George Stavins of Berwyn, a suburb.

Stavins induced Sackett to enter a cab and took him to a Berwyn Hospital for examination. While Dr. Albert Hall was examining him Sackett suddenly pulled a revolver and yelled:

"I see it all now. I'll kill every one here" and he waved the revolver at Stavins.

Sackett then ran from the hospital firing two shots which went wild. He leaped into a taxicab driven by A. E.

Shryer.
"Drive like hell, or I'll kill you!"
Sackett yelled and he leaped into the cab just as Stavins fired a shot at him.

The bullet pierced Sackett's hand.
Shryer sped away as Sackett threatened him with death. In the cab was Shryer's 8 year old son. The driver, fearing the madman would wreak vengeance on the boy if he failed to obey orders, smashed his way through traffic.

For several hours Shryer drove the crazed man about, momentarily fearing a shot in the back. Shryer finally deposited his man at the Union Station. There two policemen seized Sackett and overpowered him.

MORE SENSATIONAL CHAPTERS MAY COME FROM KIRBY CAREER

Supoena Federal Jury Ven- ire To Testify In In- vestigation

(By United Press)

Cleveland, Feb. 1.—The proposed federal grand jury investigation of alleged jury tampering, brought to light in the trial and conviction of Josiah Kirby, erstwhile super-salesman of the defunct Cleveland Discount Co., may get underway late today or tomorrow.

The inquiry will involve the entire Cleveland federal district according to Federal Judge John M. Killits, the motivating force behind the probe who expressed the opinion that additional sensational chapters will be written in the career of Kirby.

Meanwhile Kirby today is in the county jail, awaiting sentence on charges of defrauding 17,000 investors through operations of the discount company.

Kirby was convicted late Saturday on the entire fourteen counts of an indictment charging he falsified financial statements and promotion literature of the company and misappropriated company funds. He is subject to a maximum penalty of 79 years imprisonment and a fine of $14,000. Sentence may not be pronounced until the jury-tampering inquiry has been disposed of, Judge Killits said.

In addition to jurors drawn in previous federal trials, the venire of eighty and the special venire of forty from which the Kirby jury was chosen, will be subpoenaed to testify in the jury tampering investigation, officials declared.

The contemplated investigation received impetus a few days ago when attorneys and three other persons, one a woman, were arrested and charged with bribing or intimidating a juror.

Federal officials now charge
Kirby's employees obtained the venire of Kirby's two federal trials and systematically canvassed all prospective talesmen, throughout the federal district.

It was said unofficially that the Ku Klux Klan will be brought into the investigation.

Among those under arrest are Ben Williamson, an employee brought from California by Kirby; Attorney Heese
Ladow, of Mansfield; Attorney William Irvin of Akron, and John Brill, former Cleveland postal employee.

DISARMAMENT MEET POSTPONED TO MAY

Geneva, Feb. 1.—The league of nations has definitely decided to postpone the sitting of the preparatory disarmament commission originally set for February 15.

The commission will now convene not later than May 15.
The desire to have Germany as a full league member and to await Russia's possible participation, prompted this action.

It was deemed significant that the request for postponement was signed by France, Italy and Japan, who opposed the American idea of having a naval conference separate from the general Geneva conference. It is thought hearings will start at once to smooth out this question in advance of the commission meeting.

EX-CROWN PRINCE CALLS ON WILHELM

Doorn, Holland, Feb. 1.—Ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm, of Germany arrived here today to visit his father, the former Kaiser at House Doorn.

His coming was kept secret and he was brought from Amersfoort station by Prince Heinrich, brother of the Ex-Kaiser.

The former Crown Prince strangely failed to attend the recent birthday celebration of his father and at that time it was said the Dutch government had hinted a delay would be preferred.

SCHOOL HEAD DIES

White House, O., Feb. 1.—George W. Garrison, 48, superintendent of schools here, is dead, the result of a paralytic stroke suffered Saturday during a school rhetorical contest.

GEORGE G. GROUND HOG BESTIRS HIMSELF

Farmers, lovers, golfers and baseball fans throughout Ohio eagerly awaited the official word from the groundhog, due tomorrow, as to whether spring is due or whether there will be six more weeks of winter.

George G. Groundhog today stirred lazily in his sleep, grunted and took his final forty winks preparatory to coming out in the morning to take a squirt at the weather.

The official forecaster, if he sees his shadow, will retire for another six weeks.

If the sun is under cover he will decide to remain out and call off King Beoras whose icy breath has lashed Ohio for the past two weeks with unprecedented gales and sent the mercury scurrying to the zero mark.

SOLUTION FOR FARM PROBLEM NOT FOUND IN LAWS SAYS TABER

Too Much Whining Farm Bureau Head Tells Meeting

Columbus, O., Feb. 1.—Solution of the farmers financial problem lies in organization and not in legislation, L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, told the annual session of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation here today.

Taber and other notables in the agricultural world were here attending annual farm week at Ohio State University.

"The farm organizations need one million new members to fight for their needs and not thousands of pages of useless laws," Taber asserted.

Finance, labor and transportation are more important to the farmer, by far, than legislation, Taber believes.

"We have too much pessimism, too much whining and too much begging for consideration," Taber declared.
"Agriculture may not be receiving a square deal, but if it isn't, it is agriculture's fault."

"Stand up and watch us fight," he declared. "Don't whine, don't beg, don't cry. Don't try to get back on the government for a free ride. Don't ask some one else to fight our battles. Use your God-given agencies. Organize, educate and co-operate."

Ohio farmers must plan their future, Taber believes. Truth is mighty, but it only prevails when organization
plus vision are at the helm, he said.

RESCUE SHIP GIVEN WARM RECEPTION

Queenstown, Feb. 1.—A modest German skipper, Capt. Wurpts of the Nord Deutscher Lloyd Liner Bremen, put ashore six men he had saved from death aboard the now sunken British freighter Laristan.

"I don't require any thanks," he told welcoming delegation. "I only did my duty and carried out the rules of comradeship of the sea."

And the men he put ashore cherished for Wurpts the kindest feelings.
"The Germans were good fellows," observed Michael McCann, one of the rescued. "They could not have treated me better if I had been the Kaiser."

"We ran into a 75 mile hurricane," McCann explained, "and heavy seas smashed our boats. All the bulkheads except one were also smashed, causing the vessel to ship a lot of water."

Wurpts told the United Press he kept at his task, while wind and snow raged. Finally the water was strewn with doors, staircases and other wreck age which told the tragic story that the Laristan had gone down.

WANT INCREASE

New York Feb. 1.—A joint demand for an increase in wages of approximately $1 per day for railway train-men and conductors was received by eastern railroads today.

The demand came in the form of a communication from the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Conductors. A reply to the demand is asked by March 2nd.

THREE FIREMEN ARE INJURED FIGHTING BLAZE AT WARREN, O.

Business Block Of Ohio
City Destroyed—City
In Danger

(By United Press)

Warren, O., Feb. 1.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the Braden block in the heart of the downtown section today and at an early hour was menacing a half dozen buildings.

Initial loss was estimated at $100,000 with firemen from both Warren and Niles fighting desperately to control the blaze.

The Braden block was one of Warren's finest buildings.

When discovered dense clouds of smoke poured from the building.

Aroused occupants of a nearby apartment fled to the street. Firemen carried Mrs. Jay Gould, an invalid, from the building.

The Braden Block soon became a veritable inferno, with flames and smoke shooting from the windows.
Unable to control the blaze, firemen concentrated on the adjoining structures.

The blaze communicated to the community building and at 8:30 a.m.
the Warren fire department appealed to Niles, Warren's sister city, for aid.
Two fire trucks and a dozen firemen responded.

The Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank, occupied a section of the Braden block. Bank officials said the money, bonds, stocks, securities, etc., were protected by fire-proof vaults.

A pharmacy occupied another section of the building.

Four firemen were overcome and were carried beyond the fire lines, where they were revived. They refused to desert their posts and resumed fighting the blaze.

Three firemen were injured when a high pressure hose knocked them from the top of a building adjoining the blazing structure.

Captain Ray Yarik of the Warren department sustained a broken leg and firemen James O'Rourke and James Rafferty of the Niles force were bruised.

SHIPS IN DISTRESS IN MID-ATLANTIC

New York, Feb. 1.—Storms which have whipped the Atlantic into fury for a week have not abated and today the crack of the radio was telling of more ships in distress and of more havoc wrought to shipping.

During the night the Norwegian steamer E. W. Dwyand and the Dutch freighter, Alkaid both called for help from mid-Atlantic.

In the meantime ships coming into port continued to tell of struggles against seemingly mountain high seas.

The liner Olympic radioed from mid-ocean that storms and gales were delaying her and a tug towed into port, the five masted schooner Bright, her winches wrecked and her steering gear disabled.

RESCUED SAILORS RETURNED TO HOMES

Plymouth, Eng., Feb. 1.—The sea has given back to the British Isles twenty-five men it threatened last week to swallow with the tramp freighter Antioch.

Today the praises of the Isles ringing still in the ears, Capt. Fred and men of the liner President Roosevelt were leaving for Bremerhaven.

Their call at Plymouth was marked by a reception such as this seafaring town has never surpassed.

PENNSY MAY STOP SHORT TRIP TRAINS

Columbus, Feb. 1.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has filed application with the state Public Utilities Commission for permission to discontinue trains No. 815 which runs between Melford and Cincinnati,
No. 976, which runs between Cincinati and Morrow and No. 903 which runs from Morrow to Cincinnati.

The increase in popularity of motor buses has made the train service between the designated points unprofitable, the application said.

DWIGHT MOODY, EVANGELIST, IS HONORED AT CHICAGO GATHERING

Chicago, Feb. 1. (United Press.)—Park Street Church, Boston; Rev. John Timothy Stone of the Fourth Presbyterian Church, Chicago; Rev. Harry L. Strachan, of the Latin American Evangelization Campaign, Rev. John Alfred Faulkner of the Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., Rev. Oswald T. Allis of the Princeton Theological Seminary and Dr. Robert P. Wilder, founder of the student volunteer movement for foreign missions.

The gathering will include prominent members of the clergy and laity of the country who will join members of the institute's alumni association in honoring the memory of the late Biblical worker leader. Moody's birthday anniversary is Feb. 5. This date is to be observed as "Founder's Day."

The institute's purpose as set forth in its articles of incorporation, is "to educate, direct, encourage, maintain and send forth Christian workers, Bible readers, gospel singers, teachers and evangelists competent to effectually teach and preach the gospel of Jesus Christ."

The institute, with this object in view, was organized in 1886 under the name of Chicago Evangelization Society. Moody was president of that organization. The institute as now organized was opened in Sept. 26, 1889. Three months after Moody died in that year the institute was renamed in his honor—The Moody Bible Institute. Each year thereafter Founder's Week has been celebrated and attended by church leaders of America.

One of the features of this year's gathering will be the address by Rev. Matland Alexander, D. D., nationally known for his views on fundamentalism. Rev. Matland, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Pittsburgh, Pa., and former moderator of the Presbyterian assembly, will address the gathering tonight.

Other clergymen who are to speak include Bishop Frederick D. Lee, Indianapolis, Ind.; A. Z. Conard, for twenty years pastor of the historic

DIES OF BURNS

Springfield, O., Feb. 1.—Mrs. Lavina Ross, 32, was fatally burned at her home, 119 N. Race St., when a can containing coal oil exploded as she endeavored to start a fire by throwing the oil into the stove, Sunday. She died in city hospital.

NEGRO THEATRICAL TALENT AT PREMIUM IN EUROPEAN CITIES

Vienna, Feb. 1. (United Press.)—Europe rather than Liberia, according to present indications, is the place toward which American negroes will in the future turn as their land of promise. In particular is this true for those who have a talent for the stage.

Throughout Europe "the color line" is a thing unknown while in European theaters a colored skin is a real asset.

For years past negroes have been extremely popular in France and other Latin countries. They have been welcomed to society, feted as war heroes, and otherwise given a status equal to that enjoyed by people with white skins.

Since the war this popularity of the blacks has spread to other European states. Today there is hardly a city of any size where a few negroes are not to be encountered every day, especially during the summer months and there is no national capital which does not welcome the negro traveler as cordially as it does the white tourist.

The time is long past when a black skinned man attracted undue attention as he walked along the streets or dined in the restaurants of Europe.

In its hospitable treatment of the colored races Vienna has led rather than followed the procession. As the meeting place of East and West—"the Eastern outpost of Western civilization," the Viennese themselves call their city—Vienna has for centuries been accustomed to entertain people from every clime and continent in the world. To welcome the black men to-day she considers to be only a new development in her traditional life.

On the part of the theatrical world this welcome to Vienna has been particularly cordial. Theater managers have turned to the negro artists from America (and to many who were not even half-artists) as an innovation which would swell box-office receipts; actors and actresses have gladly fraternized with their black colleagues because they have found in them some thing new to study; while patrons of the theater have not only exchanged their money for tickets night after night without stint but have also fallen over themselves seeking introductions to the most prominent of the

PASSAGE TO RUSSIA FOR FOUR FAMILIES PAID BY LADY ASTOR

London, Feb. 1.—Lady Astor's announcement, bluff, some thought it, that she would pay the passage to Russia of any Socialist and his family willing to reside there has been taken up. Not one family is going, it is understood, but four.

Immediately after Lady Astor's declaration in the course of a speech at Plymouth that she would pay the passage to Russia of any family that was willing to guarantee that they would "stick it" she received some thirty requests for further information. This was promptly supplied. Thereafter ensued an ominous silence until finally out of the thirty, four replies came back they were willing to chance it.

After thinking it over Lady Astor decided to finance the passage of all four families, although she had originally intended to send only one. The successful applicants are now seeing about their passports and should start shortly. No further applications, said Lady Astor, would be considered.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN COURT HEARING ON MURDER CHARGE

With introduction of evidence completed, arguments were begun at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the hearing before Judge R. L. Gowdy in Common Pleas Court to determine the degree of murder of which Robert H. Turner, colored, confessed homicide, will be convicted for slaying his brother-in-law, Ulysses Deatherage, colored, Wilmington Pike.

The case was expected to be submitted to Judge Gowdy early in the afternoon. Judge Gowdy will reserve his decision until after a study of the testimony.

The defense rested its case early Monday morning and defense counsel Harry Armstrong and F. L. Johnson were willing to submit their case with out final arguments. Prosecutor J.

Carl Marshall requested that attorney's arguments be permitted.

Turner took the stand in his own defense at the morning session and confessed to being intoxicated at the time of the shooting. He said he had no previous intention of killing his brother-in-law but fired the four shots when he suddenly "lost his head." He declared he was inflamed by disclosures made by his elder daughter, Mabel, regarding her relations with Deatherage and his attentions to her.

Cross examination brought out the fact the prisoner had carried a revolver all day. This was for purposes of protection, Turner claimed.

Only two additional defense witnesses were called by defense counsel. Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin testified Turner was not "staggeringly drunk" when he was arrested. Mrs. Deatherage, widow of the slain man, also gave brief but unimportant testimony.

Deposition of Mabel Turner, sixteen-year-old daughter of Turner, who is in Kirksville, Ky., was submitted to Judge Gowdy at the hearing. Contents of the questionnaires filled out by the girl, for which Attorney E. D. Smith, commissioned by the trial judge, made a 248-mile trip to Kentucky to obtain, were not disclosed at the hearing.

Turner pleaded guilty to homicide when arraigned, an admission of guilt of murder, leaving open only the question of degree. He may be either found guilty of manslaughter, second degree murder or first degree murder with the death penalty or recommendation for mercy and subsequent life imprisonment.

BIG CONGREGATIONS ATTEND OPENING OF REVIVAL AT CHURCH

Auditorium of First M. E. Church was filled Sunday morning for the first address of Miss Elinor Millar, Australian Bible teacher, who will conduct special meetings in the church for two weeks.

"Be sober and watch unto prayer," was the subject of Miss Millar at the first service. She emphasized the importance of prayer and said, "A praying church has always been a successful church. Be sober, do not be intoxicated with pleasure, business, politics, social life. Keep the mind clear for visions of God, watch unto prayer. Men and women are getting so busy these days that prayer is not counted serious. We are drifting with the tide. Prayer is not an easy, lazy thing. It is hard work—that is why few pray. But if we are to know God, we must pray. If these meetings are to be worth while, we must put aside non-essentials and give ourselves to prayer."

At the evening service, R. A. Stillings and a large choir led in a song service before Miss Millar spoke. Trinity M. E. Church joined in this service and notwithstanding the rain, a large audience gathered. Dr. F. W. Stanton, First M. E. pastor, announced that 12 o'clock Monday would be observed as prayer hour and called on all Christians to pray at that hour for the success of the meetings. Dr. V. E. Brown, Trinity Church, led in prayer. Miss Millar spoke on the characteristics of the Ephesian Church. "I know thy works and thy labor and thy patience. Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love," was the text used. She said: "There is something greater than works. In all my travels I have never found a church that was not a working church. Never were churches doing more in charity, benevolence and good works than today, but God says there is something greater than works."

MODISH MITZI—Witzi Adds To The Southern Scenery

By JAY V. JAY

They've arrived. Dad has come for golf. Mitzi has reason enough for going south in the bags and trunks that follow in her wake. The scenery is interesting and Mitzi will probably make it more so for a great many people. Certainly this taffeta

cape dress combined with plaid silk has attracted interest already. It should, too, for it's new and exceptionally smart. Cape effects and taffeta are two things to be noticed wherever where new fashions are appreciated.

Mitzi has changed to one of her simple little dresses made by a famous French dressmaker. It is a princess style—and with it she wears a broad brim hat. The gentleman behind her has suddenly found a new purpose in the direction Mitzi is walking and intends to pursue it—or her, very closely.

Mitzi has a feeling that she has selected just the right clothes to wear under palms. This taffeta wrap, for instance, seems to have an admirer. It's not the same gentleman as in the last picture. Oh, no! Well, her clothes do seem to be followed with interest, very closely.

PERJURY, ROAD.

AS ONE of the first steps toward preventing motor mishaps, the Pennsylvania highway department has been gathering information concerning mishaps that have occurred during the past year on the roads under its jurisdiction.

One of the interesting revelations is that the majority of the mishaps have taken place on highway sections where conditions were ideal for motoring. Most of them occurred on straight stretches of road, and about three-fourths on dry roads. The explanation for this may be that far more motorists drive on straight dry roads than on wet or tortuous ones.

It is obvious that there is more of a temptation to take risks where the conditions seem favorable than where they are patently unfavorable. With a long straight stretch of dry road before him the driver will feel more inclination to exceed the speed maximum than if he has curves and slippery places ahead.

The figures then go to show that accidents are due for the most part not to the condition of the road but to the carelessness or incompetence of the driver or defects in the machine.

One of the striking things shown in the department's report is the high mortality rate in pedestrians struck by automobiles. Of 111 pedestrians who figured in motor mishaps on the state highways 36 were killed and 65 injured, while of the occupants of automobiles in the casualty list 116 were killed and 1,400 injured.

It is a gloomy record and emphasizes once more the necessity of taking steps to make the highways safe.

EXCELLENT WHEN NOT EXPENSIVE.

IN AN address before the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh, General Tripp, Chairman of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, gave several reasons why he hoped that the farmers of the country soon would make far greater use than they do now of electricity for driving their machines. He did not mention, probably because he thought it obvious, that such increased use would be beneficial to the power companies directly. Instead, he dwelt on the benefit it would be to the farmer himself to be equipped with better tools and to escape from much of the physical exertion he now undergoes, and to the farmer's wife if she could have the same sort of relief from her multitudinous tasks.

The farmer already has a good deal of machinery, and it is his wife who should have the help of the many electrical devices that would spare her strength.

Another effect of electricity on the farm, Mr. Tripp said, would be to minimize the centralization of industry, and, by increasing the interest and decreasing the drudgery of farm life, stop the drift toward the cities.

Mr. Tripp admitted that what stands in the way of putting electricity to work on the farms is its cost. Farmers as a rule, cannot afford to pay the present rates, and Mr. Tripp's suggestion is that the farmer should get his electricity more cheaply than the urban populations and that it would be for the general advantage thus to favor him. A subsidy for agriculture seems to be lurking somewhere in that proposal, and its welcome is likely to be more enthusiastic from the power companies than from the public at large.

That electricity is a fine form of power anywhere nobody denies. At present the more progressive farmers have faithful servants in small gasoline engines, but these are not doing much for the farmers' wives. The common impression is that they are cheaper, though not so convenient, as electricity from a central station. It would seem to be for the power companies themselves to overcome that impression if they can.

LONGEVITY AND POVERTY.

CAN it be a fact that modern ways of living, and the high standards of the present day, shorten rather than lengthen life?

Much has been written and said about how much longer the span of human life is today than was the case 100 or 200 years ago. While the average life of a century or more ago was placed under 30 years, today it is said to be nearer to 54.

To modern medical practice, the successful combatting and prevention of disease, and the general elevation of the standards of living, this is no doubt due.

Yet out of Persia comes the story of the first census taken there. It reveals a woman 146 years old, with a son 117, and ascribes their extreme age to poverty and the simple diet to which their straightened circumstances force them.

These aged Persians are said not to be exceptions. The census taker reports a high state of longevity among the peasant classes of that country, through which class runs poverty and want in the most pronounced form. Bread and milk, they say, are the principal diets, with meat obtainable only on the rarest occasions.

A man who reaches 90 or above in the so-called civilized nations, is looked on with a sort of wonderment. Yet, here in a poverty-stricken nation, and among peoples who never heard of modern inventions, standards of living, specialized medical practice, and diet, ages that run far above that are so common as to become general.

All of which may give to modern nations some thing interesting to think over.

NELL INSTRUCTS ME IN SHOPPING

Says the missus to me: "I am sure I can't see how you've ever succeeded in business at all. You're the world's easy mark, you will buy in the dark. And for any fool salesmen you'll readily fall. If you're needing a hat you just rush through the door. And take the first thing that they show in the store."

"You are always in haste, and you've horrible taste. And you'll listen to anything sales people tell. You don't know how to buy, and you don't even try. You grab the first thing that the clerk tries to sell. You rush into a place and you ask for a hat. The clerk springs a derby. You shout: 'I'll take that!'"

"Now it's different with me, the first thing that I see. May be pretty and cheap, but it won't do at all. I just stand and wait while they pull the stock out. And for any old thing I'm not ready to fall. I will take all the morning to purchase a dress. For none can buy wisely who does it in less."

So I tried the wife's way and went shopping one day. And I thought the first hat which he showed me would do. But I solemnly said: "Try them all on my head." And it took a full hour all the stock to go through. I insisted on seeing each size and each shade. And then bought the very first hat he displayed.

GRUMBLERS

For the unfortunate, the disabled and a patient discouraged, I have great sympathy and consideration. But for the grumblers—well, for then neither I nor anybody else has anything but the utmost contempt. Grumblers should have a world all to themselves where they could grumble their lives away to their hearts' content. There is really no place for them among useful and striving men.

For the most unfortunate there is in this world something—very much indeed.

In the first place this world is so full of beauty. Everywhere in Nature there is beauty. And scattered across the face of this earth are the products of the genius and work of man that is an added inspiration to those of weaker mold.

Many of us know how weak we are, but I ask how many are there among us who know how strong they are? Every day potential geniuses die—unheralded and unsung! In Florida they are tapping the wells of wealth that have been called to a progressive world for centuries. Sealed only because men with vision didn't go down there to dig and dig.

Sometimes I think that grumblers should be compelled by law to work and to contribute something to society. But then the question arises whether or not the law might be wasted on such.

The marvelous thing about human nature to me has been the great lesson it has taught through those who have been called upon to face hard tasks, sickness and misfortune, yet who have remained so sweet and great in fortitude.

The world learns nothing from its grumblers.

It learns more from its paved streets, its towering buildings, its newsboys, its janitors, its spring pansies, and its self-flowing fountain pens!

Editor, the Gazette:

Greene County has an assessed value of fifty one million dollars. In 1925 we collected one million, one hundred thousand dollars in taxes. At the current price of corn it would take a crib of corn eleven and one-quarter miles long, eight feet wide and ten feet high to equal the taxes collected in Greene County in 1925.

Or putting it in standard bushel baskets and standing them, touching each other in a straight line, the line would reach from Xenia, Ohio, to Augusta, Me., or from Xenia to Tampa, Fla., or from Xenia to Dallas, Texas.

And again if we make a crib of all of the Court House square, from the curb at Green St. to the curb at Detroit St., and from Main to Market Sts., it would make a pile of corn 100 feet high.

And again if we pay it in hogs of 200 pounds weight, allowing four square feet to the hog, it will take eight layers or decks of hogs, the size of the Court House square to equal the taxes of Greene County in 1925. Greene County is an agricultural county. The question is: Is it taking too much of our yearly product for taxes? In another 100 years will any individual be able to own any land at all? or will it all be owned by the state or nation and leased to tenants?

I am calling your attention to this hoping it may cool your brow. If not, then I hope it may warm you up some these cold days.

REJECTEDLY Sally went through her day's work. Her last effort to reach her husband and in time with a little coaxing you would have as much chic. Certainly you learn much faster than any of them. This partner I have now—Camilla—she is what you Americans call a dumbbell. You shall meet her and see."

Sally glowed with delight as he chatted on to her about fashionable resorts in Europe, of the people he had met there, of the places where he had danced.

"Oh—and I almost forgot to tell you. I brought you a little souvenir from Italy. It is a shawl and has deep blue fringe just the color of your eyes. I thought of you at once when I saw it. I will send it over to you this evening. It is so warm, you could wear it now in the evenings."

Sally couldn't help smiling at the thought of her dress as industriously spent in taking down the notes on old Mr. Granville's book.

"Do you know many people? Do you go out much?" Jerome asked her, as though it would be the most natural thing in the world for her to be a part of the gay resort's night life. And when she told him of how she worked at night, he remonstrated with her saying:

"But you must have more gaiety. Come—you must start tomorrow night. I will come for you and you shall go to the Golden Horseshoe with me and my partner and a few friends."

An exquisite shawl from Italy—lights, music and dancing with the most celebrated dancer in the world. Sally's heart pounded at the prospect. Would she dare do it?

She knew in her heart that she would summon up nerve enough to do it somehow.

CRIPPLED CENTRAL TOSSERS DEFEATED BY MIDDIES 21 TO 17

Minus the services of its captain and another regular, Central High basketball team dropped a thriller to Middletown High 21 to 17 at the school gym Saturday night.

Captain Howell Huston, high individual scorer and Fred Smith, viewed the contest from the sidelines because of illness in the first case and ineligibility in the second.

Playing with a revamped lineup, Central tossers acquitted themselves creditably even in defeat.

The contest was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish with the outcome a tossup until several minutes before the final gunshots.

The Middies acquired a 5 to 3 lead in the first quarter but Central came back strong in the second period and a volley of baskets and fouls gave Xenia a 13 to 10 advantage at the half-way mark.

Middletown's defense tightened noticeably in the third quarter and the coaches knotted the score at 15. Coach Kolb's pets failed by the margin of four points to rise to the supreme effort in the fourth stanza and were held to two points while the visitors annexed six.

The contest was a fast affair despite the fact a total of thirty-one fouls were called. Middletown had eighteen chances at the free throw line and Central thirteen. Either team might have won the game on fouls alone. However, accuracy at the free throw line was absent on both sides, Central making five shots good and the Middies seven.

The locals converted numerous opportunities for shots into six baskets from the field with Middletown making seven.

The game marked Central's first defeat at home this season. Loss of Huston and Smith came at a time when Central supporters had every reason to believe Middletown's three-year superiority in basketball over Xenia would at last be broken.

The team performed well with a make-shift lineup and the play of Bob Finlay, acting captain, was one especially bright spot in the defeat. Finlay accumulated seven points to lead both teams in scoring with Parrett and Clemans also showing well, Ryan was outstanding for the Middies.

The high school juniors defeated the seniors 17 to 0 in the preliminary.

HILL SCHOOLS WIN GAMES IN LEAGUE OF GRADE PUPILS

Orient Hill and Spring Hill sixth grade basketball teams were returned victorious over McKinley 6B and 6A basketballers respectively, in games in the Xenia City Grade Schools Basketball League at Central High School gym Saturday.

Spring Hill sixth graders demonstrated they are one of the leading contenders for the championship by blanking McKinley 6A under the overwhelming score of 48 to 0 in the morning game. Losers failed to show any offensive power and were literally swamped under a continual rain of baskets.

Orient Hill's victory over McKinley 6B in the afternoon was by a one point margin. The score was 11 to 10. The result was always a tossup until the final gunshots.

Three games will be played in the league Saturday, February 6, including one championship affair. Losers of the fifth grade games played January 16 will meet at 10 a.m. Losing teams of the fourth grade games played January 16 have been disqualified from further competition, and their contest set for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, has been replaced by a special game between Junior High seventh grade and a picked team representative of all sixth grade teams in the league, it is announced.

Winners of the fourth grade games played January 23 will meet at 8 p.m. in a championship contest for which an admission of 10 cents will be charged. Others games are free.

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamins than any food you can get.

You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar-coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of real healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong ask Sayre and Hemphill or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days.

STIVERS BUSY WITH BATH HIGH TOSSERS BUT FINALLY WINS

Bath Twp. High School tossers, credited with a five game winning streak, forced Stivers High of Dayton to exhibit a championship brand of basketball before succumbing to a 26 to 19 defeat at Osborn Saturday night.

Bath threw a scare into the visitors in the first half which ended with the former state champions trailing 14 to 8.

Bath's early season conquerors overtook Coach Mouk's pets in the final session but the result was always in doubt until late in the contest.

Trautwein was, as usual, the shining light for Stivers with sixteen points on the strength of six fielders and four fouls. The lanky center proved the main cog in the offense of the Orange.

Fisher, captain and all-county forward on the mythical all-star Greene County team selected last season, lived up to his reputation in the game. He scored eight points and was the bulwark of the locals' offense. Bootes aided his team materially at center.

The contest was viewed by probably the largest crowd of the season, which saw Bath bow to Stivers only after one of the most bitterly contested struggles of the year.

Lineup and summary: Stivers (26) Bath Twp. (19)

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTOR ADVISES PRINTERS ABOUT LAW

Attention of printers is called by Charles M. Dean, Cincinnati, internal revenue collector, to a section of the revenue law, article 32, regulation 43, part 1, relative to printing of tickets "where tickets or cards of admission to any place, for admission to which a charge is made, are printed, manufactured or sold by any person."

The law specified "it shall be the duty of that person to give prompt notice to the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the place is located for which admission is to be charged."

Notice must contain name and address of the person to whom tickets are furnished, the number of tickets furnished, and must be accompanied by proofs or sample copies of the tickets issued. If the tickets are serially numbered, notice should contain a statement of the serially numbered, notice should contain a statement of the serial numbers, Mr. Dean says. He continues:

"All tickets of admission sold for more than 50 cents must show the sales price, amount of tax and total, as separate items. No tax is due on tickets sold for 50 cents or less but the price must be shown in all cases. If your patron presents a certificate of exemption from this office, you are authorized to show the sales price of tickets with the added statement, 'tax exempt.'"

"Whoever sells an admission ticket on which the price is not so stamped or written, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

DAYTON RESTAURANT BOUGHT BY XENIANS

Gus Curtis, this city and Chris Curtis, Dayton, brothers, and a first cousin, of New York City, have acquired a five-year lease on property on S. Main St., Dayton, adjacent to the Strand Theatre, owned by the Charles S. Kuntz Co., wholesale cigar concern, Dayton, and will open a restaurant in the building this week, it is announced.

Gus and Chris Curtis owned the Curtis billiard parlor on N. Detroit St., this city for a number of years. The deal was effective last week and the store is being closed during remodeling work. It will be opened Friday, it is said.

The room was once conducted as a saloon before it was acquired by the Kuntz company for a debt payment. It has been operated as a restaurant for several years under the name of The Forum.

The new restaurant will be conducted on a partnership basis, it is said.

Correct weight can be yours

be shapely.

I DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure.

Of course you do. You want a figure that you can drape your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what's the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your appetite increase—strength come to flabby muscles and vim and vigor fill your whole system. It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. surely helps Nature build that red blood. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. The larger bottle is more economical.

FIRE MENACES TWO CITIES; ONE DEAD

FIREMAN KILLED IN BATTLE WITH BLAZE AT SOUTH BEND, IND.

City Paralyzed When 20
Stores Wiped Out—
Loss $3,000,000

(By United Press)
South Bend, Ind., Feb. 1.—All business in the heart of South Bend was paralyzed today when fire which caused losses estimated at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 destroyed twenty stores and wiped out an entire quarter of a city block.

One fireman lost his life and two others were seriously injured fighting the blaze.

The fire, which originated in the Braden Ready to Wear store, spread rapidly and in a short time the entire quarter of a block was a mass of flames.

While all South Bend fire equipment concentrated on this fire, another blaze broke out at the Standard Oil Company plant on the outskirts of the city.

The loss at this fire will be in excess of $500,000, it was said.

Fire Captain Campbell Dezelachauer, veteran of thirty years service and for twenty years a fire captain, was killed when he came in contact with a live wire.

Charles Rupp, another fireman, sustained serious injuries when he slipped while attempting to avoid falling masonry.

A third fireman, as yet unidentified, was injured when he was struck by falling bricks.

JEALOUSY THEORY IN DOUBLE MURDER

Detroit, Feb. 1.—On the theory that jealousy was the motive, police today held Samuel Pace, 21, for questioning in connection with the double murder of Hilma Lake, pretty 19-year-old domestic and her 30-year-old escort, Jay Daubenspeck, a private detective, whose bullet riddled bodies were found here yesterday.

The girl was alleged to have received threats of death from a former sweetheart, if found with another man. Pace denied knowledge of the crime, but admitted he knew Miss Lake. He was arrested after police found his automobile covered with mud and containing a pair of mud-spattered shoes.

The bodies were found about 400 feet apart in a position indicating there had been a terrific struggle. Daubenspeck had died from eight bullet wounds fired from two different weapons. Miss Lake was shot four times.

MANAGER SUGGESTS LEAGUE OF CITIES

Cincinnati, Feb. 1.—City Manager C. O. Sherrill, soon will propose a League of Ohio municipalities and will ask each city to join, it was announced today.

Formulation of the league is now banned by state laws which prohibit cities extending financial support to such organizations.

Sherrill, however, contemplates inaugurating the movement and will soon send out general letters sounding out sentiment as to his plan. Sherrill said that several members of the legislature favor repeal of the prohibitive law and that he will urge Ohio cities to join in obtaining its repeal.

THREE CANDIDATES FILE DECLARATIONS

Columbus, Feb. 1.—Former state representative H. S. Atkinson, Columbus, today filed a formal declaration of his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Atkinson is a member of the board of trustees of Ohio State University. His candidacy was endorsed by the Democratic members of the general assembly in caucus here January 15.

Two additional candidates have entered the field for the Republican nomination for secretary of state. They are former lieutenant governor Clarence J. Brown, of Blanchester and J. E. Cross, Columbus, clerk of the senate.

HUMOROUS WRITER SUCCUMBS SUNDAY

CHICAGO TERRORIZED WHEN MAN BELIEVED INSANE RUNS AMUCK

Engineer Arrested After Shooting And Wild Taxi Ride

Chicago, Feb. 1.—E. H. Sackett, 52, mining engineer and official of the Utilities Manufacturing Co., of Kansas City, Mo., was under medical observation here today, following a shooting, a wild taxicab ride and a man hunt which ended at a railroad station. Police believe Sackett is insane.

Sackett, who had a room in a hotel here, drove to the home of his sister-in-law in Berwyn and demanded to see his wife. Mrs. Sackett, alarmed by her husband's strange actions, summoned Policeman George Stavin of Berwyn, a suburb.

Stavin induced Sackett to enter a cab and took him to a Berwyn Hospital for examination. While Dr. Albert Hall was examining him Sackett suddenly pulled a revolver and yelled:

"I see it all now. I'll kill every one here" and he waved the revolver at Stavin.

Sackett then ran from the hospital firing two shots which went wild. He leaped into a taxicab driven by A. E.

Shryer. "Drive like hell, or I'll kill you" Sackett yelled and he leaped into the cab just as Stavin fired a shot at him.

The bullet pierced Sackett's hand. Shryer sped away as Sackett threatened him with death. In the cab was Shryer's 8-year-old son. The driver, fearing the madman would wreak vengeance on the boy if he failed to obey orders, smashed his way through traffic.

For several hours Shryer drove the crazed man about, momentarily fearing a shot in the back. Shryer finally deposited his man at the Union Station. There two policemen seized Sackett and overpowered him.

MORE SENSATIONAL CHAPTERS MAY COME FROM KIRBY CAREER

Supoena Federal Jury Ven- ire To Testify In In- vestigation

(By United Press)

Cleveland, Feb. 1.—The proposed federal grand jury investigation of alleged jury tampering, brought to light in the trial and conviction of Josiah Kirby, erstwhile super-salesman of the defunct Cleveland Discount Co., may get underway late today or tomorrow.

The inquiry will involve the entire Cleveland federal district according to Federal Judge John M. Killits, the motivating force behind the probe who expressed the opinion that additional sensational chapters will be written in the career of Kirby.

Meanwhile Kirby today is in the county jail, awaiting sentence on charges of defrauding 17,000 investors through operations of the discount company.

Kirby was convicted late Saturday on the entire fourteen counts of an indictment charging he falsified financial statements and promotion literature of the company and misappropriated company funds. He is subject to a maximum penalty of 79 years imprisonment and a fine of $14,000. Sentence may not be pronounced until the jury-tampering inquiry has been disposed of, Judge Killits said.

In addition to jurors drawn in previous federal trials, the venire of eighty and the special venire of forty from which the Kirby jury was chosen, will be subpoenaed to testify in the jury tampering investigation, officials declared.

The contemplated investigation received impetus a few days ago when attorneys and three other persons, one a woman, were arrested and charged with bribing or intimidating a juror.

Federal officials now charge Kirby's employees obtained the venire of Kirby's two federal trials and systematically canvassed all prospective talemsmen, throughout the federal district.

It was said unofficially that the Ku Klux Klan will be brought into the investigation.

Among those under arrest are Ben Williamson, an employe brought from California by Kirby; Attorney Hesse Ladlow, of Mansfield; Attorney William Irvin of Akron, and John Brill, former Cleveland postal employe.

DISARMAMENT MEET POSTPONED TO MAY

Geneva, Feb. 1.—The league of nations has definitely decided to postpone the sitting of the preparatory disarmament commission originally set for February 15.

The commission will now convene not later than May 15. The desire to have Germany as a full league member and to await Russia's possible participation, prompted this action.

It was deemed significant that the request for postponement was signed by France, Italy and Japan, who opposed the American idea of having a naval conference separate from the general Geneva conference. It is thought hearings will start at once to smooth out this question in advance of the commission meeting.

EX-CROWN PRINCE CALLS ON WILHELM

Doorn, Holland, Feb. 1.—Ex-Crown Prince Wilhelm, of Germany arrived here today to visit his father, the former Kaiser at House Doorn. His coming was kept secret and he was brought from Amersfoort station by Prince Heinrich, brother of the Ex-Kaiser.

The former Crown Prince strangely failed to attend the recent birthday celebration of his father and at that time it was said the Dutch government had hinted a delay would be preferred.

GEORGE G. GROUND HOG BESTIRS HIMSELF

Farmers, lovers, golfers and

baseball fans throughout Ohio eagerly awaited the official word from the groundhog, due tomorrow, as to whether spring is due or whether there will be six more weeks of winter.

George G. Groundhog today stirred lazily in his sleep, grunted and took his final forty winks preparatory to coming out in the morning to take a squirt at the weather.

The official forecaster, if he sees his shadow, will retire for another six weeks.

If the sun is under cover he will decide to remain out and call off King Beoras whose icy breath has lashed Ohio for the past two weeks with unprecedented gales and sent the mercury scurrying to the zero mark.

BEAUTIFUL SCREEN STAR IS MOURNED

Hollywood, Calif., Feb. 1.—Barbara LaMarr, the "too beautiful girl" of the films who blamed her beauty for her failure to find happiness in four marriages, was mourned in Hollywood today by the "extra-girls" whom she had helped, the two little children she had adopted and in fact by the whole film colony.

She died Saturday night, suddenly after apparently being on the road to recovery from a nervous breakdown and from nephritis.

Miss LaMarr, whose 29 years of life had been marked chiefly by her furious rush of events, a meteoric rise to fame on the screen, four marriages and three divorces in rapid succession, the adoption of two children and many smaller incidents, will be buried here Friday.

NATIONAL GUARD IN LEXINGTON TO HALT VIOLENCE AT TRIAL

One Thousand Troopers Will Prevent Attack On Murderer

(By United Press)
Lexington, Ky., Feb. 1.—With the threat of violence overshadowing Lexington, 1,000 national guard troops moved secretly into the city today, the eve of the trial of Edward Harris, negro.

Harris stands accused of murdering Clarence Bryant and his two children—and of attacking Mrs. Bryant. The guards include eight infantry companies, two machine gun squads and a hospital company.

Zones will be established through which no one may pass without a military permit.

The foundation for these drastic moves was found in mutters that stir the city.

Six years ago William Lockett, negro was tried here for attacking a child. His military guards were assaulted. Six civilians were killed.

State, county and city authorities, and even the family of the victim have joined in promising speedy justice to Harris and plead that there be no repetition of the violence that so often marks such trials.

Sometime before the trial which opens tomorrow morning, Harris will be brought here from Frankfort reformatory, fifty miles away. The time is secret but heavy guards will ride beside the car that carries him.

Once in the courtroom the vigil will not be relaxed.

Only persons with military passes will be permitted in the neutral zone and a special pass will be required to enter the courtroom.

PRISON HARVESTS ICE FROM HATCHERY

London, O., Feb. 1.—Prisoners at the London prison farm have completed the harvesting of 400 tons of ice, one of the finest crops in the history of the institution.

The ice has been taken from the ponds at the state fish hatchery adjoining the farm and has been stored in the ice house on the farm.

TUGS SAFE

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 1.—The two fishing tugs, "Helen N" and "Indian" today were safely within the harbor here after four and one-half days, spent locked in an ice floe in Lake Michigan.

Members of the crews reported no suffering after Friday, when two army airplanes from Selfridge Field, Mount Clemens, Mich., dropped food and supplies from the air.

ONE KILLED

THREE FIREMEN ARE INJURED FIGHTING BLAZE AT WARREN, O.

Business Block Of Ohio
City Destroyed—City
In Danger

(By United Press)

Warren, O., Feb. 1.—Fire of undetermined origin broke out in the Braden block in the heart of the downtown section today and at an early hour was menacing a half dozen buildings.

Initial loss was estimated at $100,000 with firemen from both Warren and Niles fighting desperately to control the blaze.

The Braden block was one of Warren's finest buildings.

When discovered dense clouds of smoke poured from the building. Arouned occupants of a nearby apartment fled to the street. Firemen carried Mrs. Jay Gould, an invalid, from the building.

The Braden Block soon became a veritable inferno, with flames and smoke shooting from the windows. Unable to control the blaze, firemen concentrated on the adjoining structures.

The blaze communicated to the community building and at 8:30 a.m. the Warren fire department appealed to Niles, Warren's sister city, for aid. Two fire trucks and a dozen firemen responded.

The Citizens Commercial and Savings Bank, occupied a section of the Braden block. Bank officials said the money, bonds, stocks, securities, etc., were protected by fire-proof vaults.

A pharmacy occupied another section of the building.

Four firemen were overcome and were carried beyond the fire lines, where they were revived. They refused to desert their posts and resumed fighting the blaze.

Three firemen were injured when a high pressure hose knocked them from the top of a building adjoining the blazing structure.

Captain Ray Yarek of the Warren department sustained a broken leg and firemen James O'Rourke and James Rafferty of the Niles force were bruised.

SHIPS IN DISTRESS IN MID-ATLANTIC

New York, Feb. 1.—Storms which have whipped the Atlantic into fury for a week have not abated and today the crack of the radio was telling of more ships in distress and of more havoc wrought to shipping.

During the night the Norwegian steamer E. W. Wynd and the Dutch freighter, Alkaid both called for help from mid-Atlantic.

In the meantime ships coming into port continued to tell of struggles against seemingly mountain high seas.

The liner Olympic radioed from mid-ocean that storms and gales were delaying her and a tug towed into port, the five masted schooner Bright, her winches wrecked and her steering gear disabled.

RESCUED SAILORS RETURNED TO HOMES

Plymouth, Eng., Feb. 1.—The sea has given back to the British Isles twenty-five men it threatened last week to swallow with the tramp freighter Antiope.

Today the praises of the Isles ringing still in the ears, Capt. Fred and men of the liner President Roosevelt were leaving for Bremerhaven.

Their call at Plymouth was marked by a reception such as this seafaring town has never surpassed.

PENNSY MAY STOP SHORT TRIP TRAINS

The increase in popularity of motor busses has made the train service between the designated points unprofitable, the application said.

"Wipe your boots, Georgie," was the first remark made by a mother in Sutton Veny, England, when her son returned home after an absence of forty-six years. Then she broke down and wept.

NEGRO THEATRICAL TALENT AT PREMIUM IN EUROPEAN CITIES

Vienna, Feb. 1. (United Press).—Europe rather than Liberia, according to present indications, is the place toward which American negroes will in the future turn as their land of promise. In particular is this true for those who have a talent for the stage.

Throughout Europe "the color line" is a thing unknown while in European theaters a colored skin is a real asset.

For years past negroes have been extremely popular in France and other Latin countries. They have been welcomed into society, feted as war heroes, and otherwise given a status equal to that enjoyed by people with white skins.

Since the war this popularity of the blacks has spread to other European states. Today there is hardly a city of any size where a few negroes are not to be encountered every day, especially during the summer months and there is no national capital which does not welcome the negro traveler as cordially as it does the white tourist. The time is long past when a black skinned man attracted undue attention as he walked along the streets or dined in the restaurants of Europe.

In its hospitable treatment of the colored races Vienna has led rather than followed the procession. As the meeting place of East and West—"the Eastern outpost of Western civilization," the Viennese themselves call their city—Vienna has for centuries been accustomed to entertain people from every clime and continent in the world. To welcome the black men today she considers to be only a new development in her traditional life.

On the part of the theatrical world this welcome to Vienna has been particularly cordial. Theater managers have turned to the negro artists from America (and to many who were not even half-artists) as an innovation which would swell box-office receipts; actors and actresses have gladly fraternized with their black colleagues because they have found in them something new to study; while patrons of the theater have not only exchanged their money for tickets night after night without stint but have also fallen over themselves seeking introductions to the most prominent of the

PASSAGE TO RUSSIA FOR FOUR FAMILIES PAID BY LADY ASTOR

London, Feb. 1.—Lady Astor's announcement, bluff, some thought it, that she would pay the passage to Russia of any Socialist and his family willing to reside there has been taken up. Not one family is going. It is understood, but four.

Immediately after Lady Astor's declaration in the course of a speech at Plymouth that she would pay the passage to Russia of any family that was willing to guarantee that they would "stick it" she received some thirty requests for further information. This was promptly supplied. Thereafter ensued an ominous silence until finally out of the thirty, four replies came back they were willing to chance it.

After thinking it over Lady Astor decided to finance the passage of all four families, although she had originally intended to send only one. The successful applicants are now seeing about their passports and should start shortly. No further applications, said Lady Astor, would be considered.

ARGUMENTS HEARD IN COURT HEARING ON MURDER CHARGE

With introduction of evidence completed, arguments were begun at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the hearing before Judge R. L. Gowdy in Common Pleas Court to determine the degree of murder of which Robert H. Turner, colored, confessed homicide, will be convicted for slaying his brother-in-law, Ulysses Deatherage, colored, Wilmington Pike.

The case was expected to be submitted to Judge Gowdy early in the afternoon. Judge Gowdy will reserve his decision until after a study of the testimony.

The defense rested its case early Monday morning and defense counsel Harry Armstrong and F. L. Johnson were willing to submit their case with out final arguments. Prosecutor J.

Carl Marshall requested that attorney's arguments be permitted.

Turner took the stand in his own defense at the morning session and confessed to being intoxicated at the time of the shooting. He said he had no previous intention of killing his brother-in-law but fired the four shots when he suddenly "lost his head." He declared he was inflamed by disclosures made by his elder daughter, Mabel, regarding her relations with Deatherage and his attentions to her.

Cross examination brought out the fact the prisoner had carried a revolver all day. This was for purposes of protection, Turner claimed.

Only two additional defense witnesses were called by defense counsel. Motorcycle Policeman Peter Shagin testified Turner was not "staggeringly drunk" when he was arrested. Mrs. Deatherage, widow of the slain man, also gave brief but unimportant testimony.

Deposition of Mabel Turner, sixteen-year-old daughter of Turner who is in Kirksville, Ky., was submitted to Judge Gowdy at the hearing. Contents of the questionnaires filled out by the girl, for which Attorney E. D. Smith, commissioned by the trial judge, made a 245-mile trip to Kentucky to obtain, were not disclosed at the hearing.

Turner pleaded guilty to homicide when arraigned, an admission of guilt of murder, leaving open only the question of degree. He may be either found guilty of manslaughter, second degree murder or first degree murder with the death penalty or recommendation for mercy and subsequent life imprisonment.

BIG CONGREGATIONS ATTEND OPENING OF REVIVAL AT CHURCH

Auditorium of First M. E. Church was filled Sunday morning for the first address of Miss Ellnor Millar, Australian Bible teacher, who will conduct special meetings in the church for two weeks.

"Be sober and watch unto prayer," was the subject of Miss Millar at the first service. She emphasized the importance of prayer and said, "A praying church has always been a successful church. Be sober, do not be intoxicated with pleasure, business, politics, social life. Keep the mind clear for visions of God, watch unto prayer. Men and women are getting so busy these days that prayer is not counted serious. We are drifting with the tide. Prayer is not an easy, lazy thing. It is hard work—that is why few pray. But if we are to know God, we must pray. If these meetings are to be worth while, we must put aside non-essentials and give ourselves to prayer."

At the evening service, R. A. Stillings and a large choir led in a song service before Miss Millar spoke. Trinity M. E. Church joined in this service and notwithstanding the rain, a large audience gathered. Dr. F. W. Stanton, First M. E. pastor, announced that 12 o'clock Monday would be observed as prayer hour and called on all Christians to pray at that hour for the success of the meetings. Dr. V. F. Brown, Trinity Church, led in prayer. Miss Millar spoke on the characteristics of the Ephesian Church. "I know thy works and thy labor and thy patience. Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love," was the text used. She said: "There is something greater than works. In all my travels I have never found a church that was not a working church. Never were churches doing more in charity, benevolence and good works than today, but God says there is something greater than works."

"Love is the chief thing with God. First love is full of enthusiasm, warmth, glow and God wants us all to return to that first love. We are to remember from whence we are fallen and repent and do the first works over or God will come and blow out our light. Let us get back to first things, which is the love of God."

Miss Millar will speak Monday night at 7:30 on the subject: "The Bible as an Educator." Mr. Stillings will lead in a fifteen-minute song service. The public is cordially invited.

MODISH MITZI—Witzi Adds To The Southern Scenery

By JAY V. JAY

They've arrived. Dad has come for golf. Mitzi has reason enough for going south in the bags and trunks that follow in her wake. The scenery is interesting and Mitzi will probably make it more so for a great many people. Certainly this taffeta

cape dress combined with plaid silk has attracted interest already. It should, too, for it's new and exceptionally smart. Cape effects and taffeta are two things to be noticed anywhere where new fashions are appreciated.

Mitzi has changed to one of her simple little dresses made by a famous French dressmaker. It is a princess style—and with it she wears a broad brim hat. The gentleman behind her has suddenly found a new purpose in the direction Mitzi is walking and intends to pursue it—or her, very closely.

Mitzi has a feeling that she has selected just the right clothes to wear under palms. This taffeta wrap, for instance, seems to have an admirer. It's not the same gentleman as in the last picture. Oh no! Well, her clothes do seem to be followed with interest, very closely.

PERI. A. K. S.

AS ONE of the first steps towards preventing motor mishaps, the Pennsylvania highway department has been gathering information concerning mishaps that have occurred during the past year on the roads under its jurisdiction.

One of the interesting revelations is that the majority of the mishaps have taken place on highway sections where conditions were ideal for motoring. Most of them occurred on straight stretches of road, and about three-fourths on dry roads. The explanation for this may be that far more motorists drive on straight dry roads than on wet or tortuous ones.

It is obvious that there is more of a temptation to take risks where the conditions seem favorable than where they are patently unfavorable. With a long straight stretch of dry road before him the driver will feel more inclination to exceed the speed maximum than if he has curves and slippery places ahead.

The figures then go to show that accidents are due for the most part not to the condition of the road but to the carelessness or incompetence of the driver or defects in the machine.

One of the striking things shown in the department's report is the high mortality rate in pedestrians struck by automobiles. Of 111 pedestrians who figured in motor mishaps on the state highways 36 were killed and 65 injured, while of the occupants of automobiles in the casualty list 116 were killed and 1,400 injured.

It is a gloomy record and emphasizes once more the necessity of taking steps to make the highways safe.

EXCELLENT WHEN NOT EXPENSIVE.

IN AN address before the Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania in Pittsburgh, General Tripp, Chairman of the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company, gave several reasons why he hoped that the farmers of the country soon would make far greater use than they do now of electricity for driving their machines. He did not mention, probably because he thought it obvious, that such increased use would be beneficial to the power companies directly. Instead, he dwelt on the benefit it would be to the farmer himself to be equipped with better tools and to escape from much of the physical exertion he now undergoes, and to the farmer's wife if she could have the same sort of relief from her multitudinous tasks.

The farmer already has a good deal of machinery, and it is his wife who should have the help of the many electrical devices that would spare her strength.

Another effect of electricity on the farm, Mr. Tripp said, would be to minimize the centralization of industry, and, by increasing the interest and decreasing the drudgery of farm life, stop the drift toward the cities.

Mr. Tripp admitted that what stands in the way of putting electricity to work on the farms is its cost. Farmers as a rule, cannot afford to pay the present rates, and Mr. Tripp's suggestion is that the farmer should get his electricity more cheaply than the urban populations and that it would be for the general advantage thus to favor him. A subsidy for agriculture seems to be lurking somewhere in that proposal, and its welcome is likely to be more enthusiastic from the power companies than from the public at large.

That electricity is a fine form of power anywhere nobody denies. At present the more progressive farmers have faithful servants in small gasoline engines, but these are not doing much for the farmers' wives. The common impression is that they are cheaper, though not so convenient, as electricity from a central station. It would seem to be for the power companies themselves to overcome that impression if they can.

LONGEVITY AND POVERTY.

CAN it be a fact that modern ways of living, and the high standards of the present day, shorten rather than lengthen life?

Much has been written and said about how much longer the span of human life is today than was the case 100 or 200 years ago. While the average life of a century or more ago was placed under 30 years, today it is said to be nearer to 54.

To modern medical practice, the successful combatting and prevention of disease, and the general elevation of the standards of living, this is no doubt due.

Yet out of Persia comes the story of the first census taken there. It reveals a woman 146 years old, with a son 117, and ascribes their extreme age to poverty and the simple diet to which their straitened circumstances force them.

These aged Persians are said not to be exceptions. The census taker reports a high state of longevity among the peasant classes of that country, through which class runs poverty and want in the most pronounced form. Bread and milk, they say, are the principal diets, with meat obtainable only on the rarest occasions.

A man who reaches 90 or above in the so-called civilized nations, is looked on with a sort of wonderment. Yet, here in a poverty-stricken nation, and among peoples who never heard of modern inventions, standards of living, specialized medical practice, and diet, ages that run far above that are so common as to become general.

All of which may give to modern nations some thing interesting to think over.

NEW DISHES THIS WEEK

Coleman. This is a delicious way to serve left-over cooked cabbage. Chop three cups of it fine by hand, then mix this with one and one-half cups of mashed white potatoes. Add one teaspoon of salt, a pinch of pepper, one and one-half tablespoons of butter melted, and turn the mixture into a medium-size baking dish. Place in a hot oven for 15 or 20 minutes, and serve hot.

Squash Meringue Pie: This is so delicious that you will want to make two pies at once, one to serve Wednesday night and the other the following evening, at dinner. (On Wednesday I will print an article on the subject of "Tender Pie Crust," so shall not tell here how to make the party.) I used a can of squash (a two pound and two ounce can.) I measured its contents and found it gave five cups. To these five cups of cold, sweet milk, one and one-half cups of light brown sugar, one half cup of granulated sugar, four tablespoons of molasses, one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of ground ginger, one-half teaspoon of ground cinnamon, a pinch of nutmeg and one beaten whole egg and the yolks of two more eggs. I saved the two egg-whites for the meringue.

I turned this filling into two unbaked lower crusts and slipped the pans into a hot oven. I used a Fahrenheit oven thermometer which registered 550 degrees when I put the pies in (this is necessary at the beginning of the baking period, to set the crust.) After five minutes I reduced the oven heat to 475 or thereabouts so that the egg filling would not boil and "wee." I continued to bake at this temperature for about 25 minutes, when the pie was done. When cooled, I spread over the tops of the pies a meringue made by beating the two egg-whites stiff, sweetening the froth with a tablespoon of sugar and adding a pinch of cream of tartar. I slipped the pies back into a very low oven for 15 minutes, and the meringue was high and brown.

Cinnamon Crackers: Butter unsweetened crackers and sprinkle thickly with granulated sugar which has been mixed with enough ground cinnamon to color it a light, brown. Slip crackers into a hot oven for one minute or till butter melts and blends with sugar. Serve hot or cold.

GRUMBLERS

For the unfortunate, the disabled and a patiently discouraged, I have great sympathy and consideration, but for the grumblers—well, for them neither I nor anybody else has anything but the utmost contempt.

Grumblers should have a world all to themselves where they could grumble their lives away to their hearts' content. There is really no place for them among useful and striving men.

For the most unfortunate there is in this world something—very much indeed.

In the first place this world is so full of beauty. Everywhere in nature there is beauty. And scattered across the face of this earth are the products of the genius and work of man that is an added inspiration to those of weaker mold.

Many of us know how weak we are, but I ask how many are there among us who know how strong they are?

Every day potential geniuses die—

unheralded and unused!

In Florida they are tapping the wells of wealth that have been called to a progressive world for centuries. Sealed only because men with vision didn't go down there to dream and dig.

Sometimes I think that grumblers should be compelled by law to work and to contribute something to society. But then the question arises whether or not the law might be wasted on such.

The marvelous thing about human nature to me has been the great lesson it has taught through those who have been called upon to face hard tasks, sickness and misfortune, yet who have remained so sweet and great in fortitude.

The world learns nothing from its grumblers.

It learns more from its paved streets, its towering buildings, its newsboys, its janitors, its spring pansies, and its self-flowing fountain pens!

Editor, the Gazette:

Greene County has an assessed value of fifty one million dollars. In 1925 we collected one million, one hundred thousand dollars in taxes. At the current price of corn it would take a crib of corn eleven and one-quarter miles long, eight feet wide and ten feet high to equal the taxes collected in Greene County in 1925.

Or putting it in standard bushel baskets and standing them, touching each other in a straight line, the line would reach from Xenia, Ohio, to Augusta, Me., or from Xenia to Tampa, Fla., or from Xenia to Dallas, Texas.

And again if we make a crib of all of the Court House square, from the curb at Green St., to the curb at Detroit St., and from Main to Market Sts., it would make a pile of corn 169 feet high.

And again if we pay it in bags of 200 pounds weight, allowing four square feet to the bag, it will take eight layers or decks of bags, the size of the Court House square to equal the taxes of Greene County in 1925. Greene County is an agricultural county. The question is: Is it taking too much of our yearly product for taxes? In another 100 years will any individual be able to own any land at all? or will it all be owned by the state or nation and leased to tenants?

I am calling your attention to this hoping it may cool your brow. If not, then I hope it may warm you up some these cold days.

THE Bread and Butter Wife
By Violet DareWHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

SALLY LEE has gone to Atlantic City as public stenographer in a fashionable hotel after quarreling with

TOM PORTER, her husband of a year, who resents her working even though she does it in order that he may live more comfortably.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT

XXXII—THE LURE OF BRIGHT LIGHTS

REJECTEDLY Sally went through her day's work. Her last effort to reach her husband failed and she felt that unless Certainly something happened at once to release her from her feeling of depression she would scream.

It seemed so evident when she glanced down in the lobby and saw the familiar, sleek figure of Jerome crossing the lobby.

"He probably wouldn't even remember me," she told herself mournfully. "Just because a world-famous dancer once tried to come to me doesn't mean that he wants a stenographer mooning over him. Oh well—"

She turned determinedly back to her work hitting the typewriter keys viciously until a cheery voice interrupted her.

"Oh, here you are," he sang out as friendly as of old. "When I reached New York I asked Stone about you and he told me you were down here. Isn't that luck? I'm opening at the Golden Horseshoe cafe here next week."

Sally was rapturous with delight. "Oh, you are so kind," she blurted out eagerly, "and I'm just desperate, I'm so lonely. You don't know how good it is just to see you again."

"See me?" He was obviously pleased by her enthusiasm. "That's not all, young lady. You're coming out with me this minute and we'll have a good long talk. That is, if your slave-drivers around here will let you."

"Oh, I'm through at four today," she told him delightedly, "and it's almost that now. You don't mind if I dance a Highland Fling right here, do you?—I thought I hadn't a friend in the world and then presto! you appeared as if by magic!"

She crushed her little, soft hat down over her hair, mentally gave thanks for the impulse that had made her put on her best sweater and skirt, and started out with him.

After walking for awhile, glancing in at the windows and commenting on the people who passed they got in a roller-chair and Sally proudly lolled back beside him hoping that some of the crowd were cosmopolitan enough to recognize him as the great Jerome.

"I hardly expected to find you," he told her in the confidential, intense manner that she had always found so entrancing. "I thought you would have found wings and flown away by this time."

"No," Sally shook her head demurely, "only anchors to hold me down."

Jerome laughed as though she had said something really clever. "Oh, he knew how to flatter women," Sally told herself, but it was pleasant and charming of him to treat her so deferentially.

"You are such a pretty girl and so capable, you shouldn't be tied down to drudgery like this. You were meant for bigger things."

"What sort of things?" Sally asked impulsively. People were always telling her that she was worthy of something else. For a moment she was tempted to tell Jerome of the disastrous experiment of becoming a fashion model but her modesty forbade.

"You mustn't just work all the time. You must have fun. You know, my dear, I thought of you a great deal while I was in Europe. I should have kidnapped you and made you my dancing partner."

You're every bit as pretty as any of them and in time with a little coaching you would have as much chance as any of them. This partner I have now—Camilla—she is what you Americans call a dumbbell. You shall meet her and see."

Sally glowed with delight as he chatted on to her about fashionable resorts in Europe, of the people he had met there, of the places where he had danced.

"Oh—and I almost forgot to tell you, I brought you a little souvenir from Italy. It is a shawl and has deep blue fringe just the color of your eyes. I thought of you at once when I saw it. I will send it over to you this evening. It is so warm, you could wear it now in the evenings."

Sally couldn't help smiling at the thought of her evenings industriously spent in taking down the notes on old Mr. Granville's book.

"Do you know many people? Do you go out much?" Jerome asked her, as though it would be the most natural thing in the world for her to be a part of the gay resort's night life. And when she told him of how she worked at night, he remonstrated with her saying:

"But you must have gayety. Come—you must start tomorrow night. I will come for you and you shall go to the Golden Horseshoe with me and my partner and a few friends."

An exquisite shawl from Italy—lights, music and dancing with the most celebrated dancer in the world. Sally's heart pounded at the prospect. Would she dare do it?

She knew in her heart that she would summon up nerve enough to do it somehow.

Tomorrow—New Worlds to Conquer

CRIPPLED CENTRAL TOSSERS DEFEATED BY MIDDIES 21 TO 17

Minus the services of its captain and another regular, Central High basketball team dropped a thriller to Middletown High 21 to 17 at the school gym Saturday night.

Captain Howell Huston, high individual scorer and Fred Smith, viewed the contest from the sidelines because of illness in the first case and ineffectuality in the second.

Playing with a revamped lineup, Central tossers acquitted themselves creditably even in defeat.

The contest was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish with the outcome a tossup until several minutes before the final gunshot.

The Middies acquired a 5 to 3 lead the first quarter but Central came back strong in the second period and a volley of baskets and fouls gave Xenia a 13 to 10 advantage at the half-way mark.

Middletown's defense tightened noticeably in the third quarter and the visitors knotted the score at 15.

Coach Kolb's pets failed by the margin of four points to rise to the supreme effort in the fourth stanza and were held to two points while the visitors annexed six.

The contest was a fast affair despite the fact a total of thirty-one fouls were called. Middletown had eighteen chances at the free throw line and Central thirteen. Either team might have won the game on fouls alone. However, accuracy at the free throw line was absent on both sides, Central making five shots good and the Middies seven.

The locals converted numerous opportunities for shots into six baskets from the field with Middletown making seven.

The game marked Central's first defeat at home this season. Loss of Huston and Smith came at a time when Central supporters had every reason to believe Middletown's three-year superiority in basketball over Xenia would at last be broken.

The team performed well with a make-shift lineup and the play of Bob Finlay, acting captain, was one especially bright spot in the defeat. Finlay accumulated seven points to lead both teams in scoring with Parrett and Clemans also showing well, Ryan was outstanding for the Middies.

The high school juniors defeated the seniors 17 to 0 in the preliminary.

HILL SCHOOLS WIN GAMES IN LEAGUE OF GRADE PUPILS

Orient Hill and Spring Hill sixth grade basketball teams were returned victorious over McKinley 6B and 6A basketballers respectively, in games in the Xenia City Grade Schools Basketball League at Central High School gym Saturday.

Spring Hill sixth graders demonstrated they are one of the leading contenders for the championship by blanking McKinley 6A under the overwhelming score of 48 to 0 in the morning game. Losers failed to show any offensive power and were literally swamped under a continual rain of baskets.

Orient Hill's victory over McKinley 6B in the afternoon was by a one point margin. The score was 11 to 10. The result was always a tossup until the final gunshot.

Three games will be played in the league Saturday, February 6, including one championship affair. Losers of the fifth grade games played January 16 will meet at 10 a. m. Losing teams of the fourth grade games played January 16 have been disqualified from further competition, and their contest set for Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, has been replaced by a special game between Junior High seventh grade and a picked team representative of all sixth grade teams in the league, it is announced.

You probably know that Cod Liver Oil is the greatest flesh producer in the world.

Because it contains more Vitamines than any food you can get. You'll be glad to know that Cod Liver Oil comes in sugar-coated tablets now, so if you really want to put 10 or 20 pounds of real healthy flesh on your bones and feel well and strong, ask Sayre and Hemphill or any druggist for a box of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets and if you don't gain five pounds in 30 days your druggist is authorized to hand you back the money you paid for them.

It isn't anything unusual for a person to gain 10 pounds in 30 days. "Get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet."—Adv.

STIVERS BUSY WITH BATH HIGH TOSSERS BUT FINALLY WINS

Bath Twp. High School tossers, credited with a five game winning streak, forced Stivers High of Dayton to exhibit a championship brand of basketball before succumbing to a 26 to 19 defeat at Osborn Saturday night.

Bath threw a scare into the visitors in the first half which ended with the former state champions trailing 14 to 8.

Bath's early season conquerors overtook Coach Monk's pets in the final session but the result was always in doubt until late in the contest.

Trautwein was, as usual, the shining light for Stivers with sixteen points on the strength of six fielders and four fouls. The lanky center proved the main cog in the offense of the Orange.

Fisher, captain and all-county forward on the mythical all-star Greene County team selected last season, lived up to his reputation in the game. He scored eight points and was the bulwark of the locals' offense. Bootes aided his team materially at center.

The contest was viewed by probably the largest crowd of the season, which saw Bath bow to Stivers only after one of the most bitterly contested struggles of the year.

Lineup and summary:

Stivers (26) Bath Twp. (19)
McConnell .....RF..... Fisher

INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTOR ADVISES PRINTERS ABOUT LAW

Attention of printers is called by Charles M. Dean, Cincinnati, internal revenue collector, to a section of the revenue law, article 32, regulation 43, part 1, relative to printing of tickets "where tickets or cards of admission to any place, for admission to which a charge is made, are printed, manufactured or sold by any person."

The law specified "it shall be the duty of that person to give prompt notice to the collector of internal revenue of the district in which the place is located for which admission is to be charged."

Notice must contain name and address of the person to whom tickets are furnished, the number of tickets furnished, and must be accompanied by proofs or sample copies of the tickets issued. If the tickets are serially numbered, notice should contain a statement of the serially numbered, notice should contain a statement of the serial numbers, Mr. Dean says. He continues:

"All tickets of admission sold for more than 50 cents must show the sales price, amount of tax and total, as separate items. No tax is due on tickets sold for 50 cents or less but the price must be shown in all cases. If your patron presents a certificate of exemption from this office, you are authorized to show the sales price of tickets with the added statement, 'tax exempt'."

"Whoever sells an admission ticket on which the price is not so stamped or written, is guilty of a misdemeanor."

Correct weight
can be yours

be shapely!

I DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure.

Of course you do. You want a figure that you can drape your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what's the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your appetite increase—strength come to flabby muscles and vim and vigor fill your whole system. It's red blood that does it. And S. S.
